Welcome to Fordham University

Fordham, New York City's Jesuit University, offers a distinctive educational experience rooted in the 450-year old Jesuit tradition of intellectual rigor and personal attention, set amid the dynamic rhythm of New York City, the cultural and commercial capital of the world.

Fordham was founded in 1841 by Rev. John Hughes, Archbishop of New York City, who turned the school over to the Jesuits in 1846, when the New York Legislature granted it a charter as a university.

Fordham enrolls about 7,652 students in its four undergraduate colleges, in addition to 7,136 students in its six graduate and professional schools. Offering more than 65 majors, the required Common Core Curriculum ensures that students develop a range of knowledge that secures the quality and reputation of the Fordham bachelor's degree.

Fordham's three residential campuses in New York City include the beautiful Rose Hill campus, located just steps away from the New York Botanical Gardens and the Bronx Zoo, the Lincoln Center campus, in the heart of Manhattan's artistic community and the scenic Tarrytown campus which overlooks the Hudson River.

Fordham sponsors 22 men's and women's varsity sports teams, the Fordham Rams are members of the NCAA Division I and compete in the Atlantic 10 Conference in baseball, basketball, cross country, golf, indoor and outdoor track, women's rowing, soccer, softball, swimming and diving, tennis and volleyball and in the Patriot League (NCAA I-FCS) for football.

New York City

In what Pope John Paul II called "the capital of the world", many of the world's most ambitious young men and women make their mark in the arts, communications, business, finance, education, publishing, science, social science, the law, and international politics. For more than 150 years, Fordham University has been a vital part of this exciting city, offering its students an education that is as stimulating as their surroundings, not to mention personally and professionally fulfilling.

New York City offers Fordham students a campus without peer. Across the street from the Rose Hill campus are two of the world's most distinguished biological research facilities: the New York Botanical Garden and the Wildlife Conservation Society, more commonly known as the Bronx Zoo. The Lincoln Center campus is right at home in its theatrical and artistic neighborhood on Manhattan's upper west side.

Among other interests in New York City are Central Park, South Street Seaport, Rockefeller Center (where Saturday Night Live is broadcast), New York City Ballet, New York City Opera, United Nations and the world famous Broadway.

Athletic Facilities

Jack Coffey Field (Football, Men's and Women's Soccer)

Jack Coffey, a name that is synonymous with Fordham Athletics, served as Graduate Manager of Athletics for thirty-two years and varsity baseball coach for thirty-seven years before retiring from both posts in 1958.

The baseball field was named in his honor in 1954 and when Fordham restored football in 1964, the football Rams also called Coffey Field home. The plaque dedicated that day in 1954 summed up what Jack Coffey meant to Fordham and to Fordham men. It hails the pensioner as "A true sportsman scholar and Christian gentleman."

Jack Coffey Field took on a new look for the 2005 season as the playing surface was replaced with FieldTurf™, one of the top artificial surfaces in the world. Also, new lights and a new scoreboard were installed. In addition to hosting the football Rams, the newly surfaced Jack Coffey Field will also host the men's and women's soccer teams and be available for the intramural and club sports programs.

Rose Hill Gym (Men's and Women's Basketball, Volleyball)

Fordham University's home court, the Rose Hill Gymnasium, is the oldest gym still being used by an NCAA Division I team. The 3,470 seat gym opened on January 16, 1925 for a game between Fordham and Boston College. The Rams took the opener 46-16 in a game refereed by one of the University's most prominent alumni, "The Fordham Flash", Frankie Frisch.

The Gym was one of the largest on-campus facilities at the time it was built, earning the nickname "The Prairie" because of its large floor space. The original configuration had no end zone stands and a seating capacity of 2,100 but several standing room crowds of 6,000 were reported in the late 1920's. Since its opening in 1925, the gym has seen numerous renovations, adding new seating, scoreboards and public address systems.

The most recent renovation occurred in the summer of 2002 when the gym received new lighting, new stands, a new public address systems, new windows and doors, a new heating system and new scoreboards.

The arena has been in continuous use by Fordham's basketball teams since its opening with the exception of the World War II years, when it was used for a barracks.

The Rose Hill Gym has been the site of many legendary college and high school basketball games including Kareem Abdul Jabbar's final high school game and the 1988 Tolentine-Archbishop Molloy Catholic High School Athletic Association (CHSAA) Championship game, billed by the New York Newsday as the "Best High School Game of the 80's". The Rose Hill Gym continues to host the CHSAA Championships annually.

Athletic Facilities

In addition to hosting the football and baseball Rams, the newly surfaced Jack Coffey Field also hosts the men's and women's soccer teams and is available for the intramural and club sports programs.

In August 2005, Jim Houlihan (CBA '74) and his family pledged $1 million to Fordham University's baseball program to name the newly renovated baseball complex Houlihan Park at Jack Coffey Field.

It contains a 220-yard running track, six tennis courts, a 38-meter, eight-lane swimming pool, competition diving facilities, weight rooms, five racquetball/squash courts, a bicycle and treadmill room, locker rooms, and sauna.

In the summer of 1999, the fieldhouse underwent a renovation with new lighting, ventilation and flooring being installed.

The pool also features a dry land exercise deck area, and the diving well allows for separate areas for instruction and warming up.

In addition, the Messmore Pool has an eight-lane scoreboard with a Colorado Timing system, and seating for 1,000.
